I am planning seed and plant swap for early spring.

Winter Reading for adults began January 2 and 26 people have signed up. From talking to people I have learned that they really like these passive programs that they do at their own pace and do not have to attend anything.

The most recent library newsletter was emailed on December 27.

The library services contract between Three Oaks, New Buffalo, and Bridgman Libraries and Chikaming Township is up for renewal in June of 2020. I have been meeting with the other library directors to discuss this. Per capita, we receive $7,500 in Penal Fines and $750 in state aid for Chikaming, plus $10,000 for the library services contract directly from Chikaming.

The biennial Michigan Rural Libraries Conference is Monday, April 13 to Wednesday, April 15 in Traverse City. These dates conflict with our April board meeting. I'm hoping we can either change the date of the meeting or I can be excused from the meeting. Also, I would really like to have our staff member Deb Sieler attend the conference, too. Our co-op has grant money available for staff professional development. The Leadership Conference I am in is meeting Thursday, April 16 at the same location.
