We partnered with River Valley Schools for Park & Read, a story time at a different community park for six Wednesdays. This reached 14 different children, several who came each week. It was a neat program and I think we'll do it again.

I am still attending weekly meetings on Zoom with the Library of Michigan for updates. These are lively discussions as the Executive Orders keep coming.

MeiCat – the state's interlibrary system – went live yesterday morning!

I hired another new person; Erin Przybylinski started last week. Erin & Cathy Jones will both be learning the local history/genealogy room plus all other things library.
