During this week and next, the library will have some work done to the ceiling near the chandelier. While this is happening most the first floor of the library will be inaccessible to patrons. The second floor of the library will be open – this includes the public computers and the School of American Music. We will hold all of our regularly scheduled programs in the library's community room.

Notices will be posted on the library doors when the work commences.

Just give us a call at 756-5621

and we will be glad to provide curbside service.

We're sorry for any inconvenience this causes.

On April 8, 2024, a total solar eclipse will cross North America, passing over Mexico, the United States, and Canada. The next total solar eclipse will not happen until 2044.

Three Oaks Public Library has pairs of eclipse glasses provided by a grant from the Space Science Institute and the Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation. We are handing these out. We want to share these with as many people as possible so we're asking you only take pairs for immediate members of your household, while supplies last.

Thanks for your understanding.
