This week the library is having some work done to the ceiling near the chandelier. While this is happening most the first floor of the library will be inaccessible to patrons. The second floor of the library will be open – this includes the public computers and the School of American Music. We will hold all of our regularly scheduled programs in the library’s community room.

Just give us a call at 756-5621
and we will be glad to provide curbside service.
We’re sorry for any inconvenience this causes.

On April 8, 2024, a total solar eclipse will cross North America and Three Oaks Public Library has pairs of eclipse glasses provided by a grant from the Space Science Institute and the Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation. We are handing these out. We want to share these with as many people as possible so we’re asking you only take pairs for immediate members of your household, while supplies last.

Thanks for your understanding.

Join us all day on April 9
for a celebratory
cookie & coffee (provided by the Three Oaks Library Friends).
