What's Happening at the library....

We are happy to tell you about our new Workforce Development Book Collection we recently received from the Library of Michigan and Institute of Museum and Library Services. The collection consists of 22 timely titles covering career changes, entrepreneurship, job hunting, job skills, leadership, legal issues, resumes/interviews, workforce education, and workplace environment. All books can be checked out for three weeks.

In addition to these new books we have a great selection of online offerings. www.Mel.org (Michigan's eLibrary) has excellent online e-resources for job hunters. In LearningExpress Library there are over 700 courses to help you prepare for occupation exams and licenses, trade certifications, and civil service exams. There is also a resume builder to help you customize and update your resume. After you build your resume, you can head over to tutor.com – it isn't just for kids! It's a great resource for adults to get one-on-one help from a live expert as you design your resume or even practice interview skills.

Don't forget to check out our other online resources: PressReader, hoopla, Libby/Overdrive, and Kanopy. If you need help navigating any of these resources, just let us know. We're always happy to help.

In other news, in addition to the daily Herald Palldium, we are now receiving The New York Times. We welcome you to come in and sit awhile while you read the newspapers.

We are happy to say that our new STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, & Math) Kits are flying off the shelves! They are available for a three-week checkout period and would be perfect for the long Thanksgiving weekend. The recommended ages are younger elementary students so we encourage parents and children to explore our STEAM Kits together. Kits are provided by an LSTA grant.
